Maj. Gen. Strickler Informs Legislature 28th Is Ready

HARRISBURG, Sept. 18.—(INS)—Pennsylvania's famed 28th division, battle tested in two world wars in Europe, is ready today to take its place along the "iron curtain" on the continent to help prevent another holocaust.

Maj. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler of Lancaster, the 28th commanding general, addressed both the house and senate yesterday as a former lieutenant governor of the commonwealth and gave members an up-to-the-minute report on the training progress of the division.

"The men in the division are in good condition," reported Strickler, "and generally are in better shape than in World War II."

"We are ready to take up a strategic position near the iron curtain to help show that we are ready to do something to prevent a third world war."

18,000 Officers and Men

The division, with its 18,000 officers and men plus its equipment, Strickler told legislators, represents a taxpayers' investment of Construction workers are on the job early and late along the route of the turnpike in Lawrence county, it was noted by Pa. News Monday evening in a trip to the Enon Valley area. Close to eight o'clock last evening a large power shovel was working at the site of the new highway bridge over the turnpike on the Mt. Jackson-Enon road. Three lanes of concrete have been poured in that area.

Little Mary Ellen Cassidy of R. D. 9 was made a happy girl over the week end when she found three extra large mushrooms with stems four inches long, three inches thick and the top as large as a saucer.

Police officers are also located at the intersection of East Washington street and Butler avenue to direct truck traffic from the east to use the 422 By-Pass route through the city instead of East Washington street.

Improvements made by the Highway Department at the intersection of the Wampum and Mt. Jackson roads have been appreciated by motorists making use of those roads. It is much easier to make the sharp turn at the intersection since the resurfacing of the highway, which has been widened somewhat by the workmen.

With full permission received from the State Highway Department for the installation of a stop-and-go traffic light at the Harbor at the intersection of old and new routes 422, little time should

Admission Of Greece, Turkey To NATO Urged

U.S. Seeks Approval For Admission Of Two Nations To NATO

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

OTTAWA, Sept. 18.—The United States pressed for unanimous approval today of a resolution recommending admission of Greece and Turkey into the North Atlantic treaty organization (NATO).

Secretary of State Dean Acheson called for a showdown on extension of the European defense pact by presenting a formal resolution to the 12 powers last night at their Ottawa conference.

Some of the small powers fear admission of the two nations into the alliance may commit them to defend the middle east and the Mediterranean and might spread U. S. aid too thinly.

Expect Attack

Therefore, Denmark, Norway and possibly one or two Benelux nations—Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg—were expected to vote against the resolution.

Four Reported Dead In Nursing Home Fire; 13 Injured

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—(INS)—At least four persons were reported dead and 13 hospitalized in a general alarm fire today at a nursing home for aged near Washington.

Reports from the scene were that four bodies were taken from the burning building. At least ten inmates were taken to a hospital at Ashton, Md., while three others were hospitalized at the Washington sanitarium in Takoma Park, Md.

Other hospitals in the surrounding towns were also reported alerted to receive emergency patients.

The cause of the fire was not immediately determined, but it brought a general alarm for all available equipment and police, and a coroner was called to the scene.

Speeding Train Leaves Tracks, Razes Station

Engineer Killed, Five Others Hurt In Indiana Crash

MONON, Ind., Sept. 18.—(INS)—Railroad officials today sought the cause of an unexplained crash at Monon which killed one person and injured five others when a speeding streamliner left its rails and demolished a station at which it had been scheduled to stop.

The first section of a four-unit Diesel locomotive pulling five passenger cars comprising the line's Chicago-to-Louisville, Ky., "Thoroughbred" failed to take a curve and plowed into the center of the stone station.

Engineer Killed

Engineer H. L. Dickson, 66, of Lafayette, Ind., was killed. The second engineer, Roy Johnson, 61, of Indianapolis, and Fireman C. D. Henriott, 36, of Lafayette, both were critically injured.

None of the passenger cars left the rails but two girls waiting on the platform to meet a passenger aboard the train were injured when the station collapsed above them. They were Alice Burlington, 19, and Joyce Denton, 17, of Monon.

Also critically injured was Mahlon Eberhard, 16-year-old assistant telegraph operator who was the only person inside the depot when it was struck.

Witnesses disagreed as to whether the diesel's horn had sounded prior to the crash when the train roared into the station area. Some estimated its speed at 40 to 50 miles per hour and said they did not believe it could have stopped at the station.

Death Toll In Illinois Blast Mounts To 12

At Least Ten More On Critical List In Oil Plant Blast

(BULLETIN)
ROXANNA, Ill., Sept. 18.—(INS)—The death toll mounted to 12 today as a result of a tremendous explosion at the Shell Oil Company's huge refining plant at Roxanna last night.

At least ten men were on the critical list at three hospitals and doctors fear that the death toll may rise higher.

About 50 men were injured and 26 hospitalized in the explosion and fire which rocked the Roxanna area 20 miles northeast of downtown St. Louis.

Members of Night Crew

Most of the dead and injured men were members of a night crew that was cleaning one of the refinery's largest oil "cracking" units where unrefined oil is heated under pressure in the manufacture of gasoline.

The force of the explosion and the heat of the fire that followed it was so intense that the plastic company badges worn by the victims were melted.

Several bodies were burned beyond recognition.

Wives, mothers and other relatives maintained an all-night vigil at the St. Joseph and Alton Memorial hospitals at Alton and the Wood River Township hospital where the critical and seriously injured were taken.

Company officials said the cause of the blast has not been determined.

Ghastly Scene

The roaring fire set off by the explosion lit up the sky and revealed a ghastly scene of fleeing men who were tearing off their burning clothes. Plastic badges worn by the burned employees were melted in the intense heat.

Quick work by fire departments of Wood River, Alton and Roxanna put out the blaze with a minimum of damage. Every available ambulance in nearby towns was rushed to the plant and calls went out immediately for plasma.

Rebuilding of Route 18 between Moravia and Koppel will become a reality it is learned from the Department of Highways and State Bridge and Highway Authority.

The state expects to call for bids in the gigantic rebuilding project on or about October 11, it is learned.

The new road which will be a turnpike feeder route is to be entirely on a new location between Moravia and Koppel, eliminating some dangerous curves and the dangerous underpass near Moravia.

Sam Crisci Jr. Is Instantly Killed As Truck Overturns

Samuel S. Crisci, Jr., aged 20 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel S. Crisci, of 1123 Croton avenue, was instantly killed at 5:10 p. m. Monday, in a tragic accident on the new Pennsylvania Turnpike Extension, at Station 19, just 1,900 feet east of the Ohio state line, when a huge tractor-trailer dump truck, known as an "Ukiet," slid down the side of an embankment, and overturned. The young man's head was crushed between the edge of a concrete culvert pipe and the left front wheel of the trailer.

The accident was witnessed by J. C. Carpenter, of Wellington, O., and W. R. Taylor, of Youngstown, fellow employees, who notified officials of W. J. Baltes, Inc., the contractor on the job. They in turn summoned Coroner Charles

Stanley Steamer Is Race Winner

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—(INS)—Is the gasoline-driven auto obsolete? Will the ancient "Steamer" make a comeback?

Food for thought on the subject was given by the results of a race from Chicago to New York between a 1913 Stanley Steamer and a four-cylinder, gasoline-driven 1911 Stoddard Dayton.

Showing no respect for old age, the 38-year-old Steamer, driven by 76-year-old Jack Brause, nosed out the Stoddard Dayton, driven by 70-year-old Rube DeLaunty.

Elapsed time for the Steamer was 53 hours and four minutes. For the Stoddard Dayton it was 37 minutes more.

TOKYO, Sept. 18.—(INS)—Gen. and Mrs. Matthew B. Ridgway called on Emperor Hirohito for lunch today and received the full treatment of the "number one honor protocol," hitherto reserved for chiefs of state.

It was the first visit to the imperial palace in Tokyo by either Ridgway or Gen. Douglas MacArthur, his predecessor as allied occupation chief.

Hirohito had visited MacArthur 11 times and Ridgway twice at the American embassy, but had never before received the allied supreme commander at the palace.

Both chairman Murray (D) Tenn., of the House post office committee, and Rep. Rees (R) Kans., ranking minority member, said they knew of no major opposition to the measure written by the committee earlier in the summer.

Democratic whip Priest (D) Tenn., predicted the House would stick by the committee measure even though the different Senate bill had administration approval.

The House measure is designed to increase revenues by some $124,321,961. This would still leave the Post Office Department with a $375 million deficit.

Proposal Is Accepted By U.N. Command

Reds May Plan For Reply To Latest Message Of Ridgway

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
TOKYO, Sept. 19.—(Wednesday)—The Communist command accused Allied forces Tuesday night of a new "invasion" of the Kaesong neutral zone, site of the suspended Korea armistice talks, and requested a meeting with United Nations liaison officers Wednesday.

UN headquarters announced that the Reds communicated their fresh allegation by radio-telephone from Kaesong to the Allied truce parley delegation at the latter's base at Munsan, 15 miles to the southeast.

Bid Is Accepted

At the same time, the Communists proposed a meeting of liaison officers at the Pan Mun Jon bridge on the edge of the Kaesong neutral circle at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning (7 p. m. Tuesday EDT). The Allied command accepted the bid to the meeting.

The Reds did not say what they wanted to discuss but it was thought possible they might reply to Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's Monday message proposing talks to arrange resumption of the armistice negotiations.

Ridgway confronted the Communists Tuesday with the choice of permitting the cease-fire parley to collapse or making one move which could lead to its renewal.

That one move would be the simple act of ending the suspension of the Kaesong parley, the Allied supreme commander's Tokyo headquarters pointed out in a statement declaring:

Says U.S. May Place Some War Orders In Europe

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

OTTAWA, Sept. 18.—A European diplomatic source said today the United States has offered to ease the financial strain of rearmament among its western Allies by placing war orders and making huge defense purchases in Europe.

An American source said that an initial U. S. outlay abroad of $500,000 is in prospect under this plan. The larger part of the sum would be for purchase and production in European war factories of ammunition and straight military supplies.

The proposal, International News Service was told, is one of several already in the hands of the five power foreign ministers committee established yesterday by the North Atlantic Council. This committee was formed to draft long range economic plans combining NATO military and industrial defense measures.

Under the plan as offered, the informant stated, the United States would set up defense purchasing and procurement offices in London and Paris and possibly open branch offices later in the Benelux countries and Italy.

E. Allen to the scene. The coroner with Harry Gordon safety inspector for the Pennsylvania Highway Department conducted an investigation of the circumstances.

Was On New Job

The young man had only driven the huge earth-moving job one day, having previously driven a truck for the Baltes company, it was stated.

As he was hauling a load of gravel, traveling toward the western end of the highway, the rear wheels of the earth carrier began cutting into the edge of the berm on the north side, gradually sliding deeper over the side of a 20-foot embankment, when suddenly the whole carrier overturned. There was a concrete culvert pipe, five feet in diameter, projecting through the filled section, to carry away an excess of water from the other side of the highway, and the young man either tried to jump or was jolted off the tractor seat, his head being pinned between the sharp edge of the pipe, the left front wheel of the trailer, crushing it and causing instant death.

The accident was the first fatal one, which has occurred on the new turnpike extension in this area, Inspector Gordon stated.

can fashion, instead of bowing to each other in the traditional Japanese manner of greeting.

The luncheon, featuring French-style dishes prepared by a veteran Japanese chef, was held on the invitation of Emperor Hirohito.

An imperial palace spokesman said the function was planned to impress upon the peoples of Japan and the United States the friendly relations that exist between the two former enemies as a result of the peace treaty and the U. S.-Japan security pact.

Observers felt the emperor arranged the affair in order to let his people know he approves of both the peace and the security pacts.

Constitutionally forbidden to engage in any political activity, the emperor still has such a tremendous spiritual hold on his people that they cannot fail to realize the full implications of his ceremonial gesture of friendship.

Ridgway and his wife crossed the symbolic double bridge spanning the palace moat, a crossing no other foreigner has made since the end of the war.

The only thing lacking in the ceremony was the company of imperial guards which presented arms to visiting dignitaries in the old days. The emperor has no imperial guards any more.

Neither did the Ridgways cross the bridge in an imperial coach and four as visiting dignitaries used to do. They rode in an American automobile.

price of penny post-cards. First class mail has been the only class to pay for itself.

The measure, approved by the Senate ten days ago, however, hiked first class letters from three to four cents and airmail from six to eight cents.

The House bill increases rates for sending magazines and newspapers twice as much as the Senate measure. Murray said an effort to lower these rates in the House bill might be made.

Both the House proposal and the Senate bill hike third and fourth class rates as well as increase the cost of special delivery handling and other services.

The Senate bill, with the increase in first class rates, would increase the post office take by $400 million, or more than three times the House proposal.

The differences between the two measures will have to be straightened out in a conference.

The House later this week will consider a bill to raise salaries of half a million post office employees. The Senate last week voted a hike of from $400 to $800 annually for each.

Reflections

By Howard Reynolds

HE FORGED A FORTUNE

Robert L. Ingalls, Sr., was a blacksmith at Birmingham, Alabama, who fanned the coals in his forge with a bellows, hammered out horseshoes, by hand, on an anvil, and as the sparks flew he dreamed of a bigger business, then made that dream come true within fifty years.

Our Reddick friends tell us that's impossible; Ingalls did it. Our Reddick friends would have us believe only slave labor can produce a fortune; Ingalls built a wealthy city of 275,000 persons at the same time.

The United States is a Country of superlatives. It is the one place where the poorest boy can become the richest, or the one with fewest advantages can become one who controls a myriad of advantages for ten thousand times ten thousand persons. Ingalls proved it, not by Socialism, not by Communism, but by the American way. Which is best? There is no doubt—free enterprise.

CHINESE REDS STAND FIRM IN FACE OF ATTACK

armistice conference city, and thwart one of the classic invasion routes leading down to Seoul, South Korean capital.

On the east front, meanwhile, North Korean Reds staged a comeback with six furious counter attacks. All were repulsed by Allied forces which had advanced slowly in their effort to capture a nine-mile-deep mountain range.

Fanatical Counter Charges

Renewing the grueling "Battle of the Hills," the Communists hurled units ranging from squad to reinforced company size into the fanatical counter charges. International News Service Correspondent Don Dixon reported tonight.

His field dispatch said that in the east-central sector, north of Yanggu, United Nations troops Tuesday encountered such heavy Red resistance that their commanders were able to report only "little progress" throughout the day.

The UN limited objective assault in the east pried thousands of North Koreans from their mountain positions in the climax to a week long battle after gaining up to a mile Monday night and seizing another key height.

Elsewhere across the Korean peninsula, Allied patrols kept slashing into enemy territory but contact with the Reds was light.

The sharpest fighting through Monday raged in the east and east-central sectors where an estimated four North Korean corps offered stubborn resistance during the past week.

One towering height, overlooking what GIs have dubbed "Shot Glass" valley because of its shape, fell to the UN troops after a furious two-hour hand to hand encounter.

The hill, situated north of the "Punchbowl" area, also overlooks a river and one of the enemy's main supply routes in the east.

The fight for the 3,000-foot mountain began as the Allied infantrymen swarmed up the southern slope at dawn. By mid-morning they were in close combat with the North Koreans, many of whom they blasted and burned out of their log-cabin bunkers with grenades and flamethrowers.

pected to launch an all-out attack against the move at a closed-door session.

Acheson pinned his hopes on rapid action in favor of the resolution during the day, despite the likelihood that one or two of the dissenting delegates may offer reservations, demand extensive clarifications on the precise new military obligations they will assume and otherwise cause a delay.

The big three are willing to agree to delaying action on the resolution for some days but would prefer to see its adoption at Ottawa instead of waiting until the NATO meeting in Rome at the end of October.

Acheson introduced his resolution in a fighting speech. He emphasized that entry of Greece and Turkey into the pact means the addition of 600,000 to 750,000 well-trained and equipped combat troops.

The statement came 24 hours after Ridgway yesterday offered, in a message to the Red high command, to send his liaison officers to the Communists "to discuss conditions that will be mutually satisfactory" for revival of the talks.

executive vice president of G. N. C. A., and Richard Rentz of The New Castle News.

A convention luncheon will be served at 12:15 p. m. in the ballroom.

Election of the national officers, directors and district president, will take place at 1:30 p. m., and this will be followed by a recess.

The group will tour the Sherrango Pottery company at four p. m., and at 6:30 o'clock a buffet lunch and refreshments will take place in the hunt and harvest rooms of The Castleton. An informal social period will be enjoyed afterwards.

Thus, the UN supreme command pinned upon the Red military chiefs the sole responsibility for the fate of the conference.

VOICE OF AMERICA BUDGET

Many persons close to the State Department insist that no essential damage would be done to United States anti-Communist propaganda activities if the budget for the "Voice of America" and other related programs were cut 25 per cent.

They say that the propaganda units are over-staffed, often with people with little or no experience in the work they are handling.

The "Voice" staff at the San Francisco Japanese peace treaty conference was larger than those of the three major wire services combined. This happens at many other big international events.

The publications division is trying to find ways to justify its large expenditures. The documents which it issues are frequently mere summaries of newspaper articles or radio broadcasts.

Meanwhile, private news agencies may challenge some of the activities of the United States Information Service. In its effort to justify itself, it is distributing major news releases of the government to United States outlets free, and thus is in the position of using taxpayer funds to compete with private concerns.

PADDED PAYROLLS?

It was a frontal attack which the Senate made on government spending when it voted a reduction of 30,000 in the number of civilian employees in the armed services and a cut of 5 per cent in civilian payrolls at the Pentagon. This action may cause some squirming in military circles and it will result in some persons losing their jobs, but it is the opinion of those without prejudice that no harm at all will be done to the national welfare.

In war or near-war it always has been the government's habit to hire many more people than are needed to perform the work at hand. Only recently, for instance, Senator Douglas—who emitted a weird scream and fled the Senate chamber a few days ago when Senator O'Mahoney, the Wyoming New Dealer, was defending wild spending—after a personal investigation, reported some departments were so over-staffed all the employees could find to do was to talk to one another.

As further proof of the extravagant use of manpower Mr. Douglas cited the fact that today there is one civilian employee at the Pentagon for every 100 men in combat service. At the peak of World War II the ratio was 1 to 500. Nobody with a reasonable sense of values will contend there is warrant for so vast an expansion of the civilian forces.

EARLY RATIFICATION DESIRABLE

Last week Senator William F. Knowland, California Republican, urgently appealed to the State Department to revise its decision not to press for early Senate ratification of the peace treaty with Japan.

Soon after the Senator's position became known President Truman told his news conference that he is going to ask for prompt Senate disposition of the important document.

From that and other developments there would appear from that and other developments there would appear to be no serious difficulty in obtaining early ratification unless the Senate itself delays it. The job might prevent Senate adjournment, as previously planned, early in October.

The Japanese pact is too important to be set aside at this critical time, probably preventing action until January.

Sensor Kowland has declared that the United States should not hold off until other nations ratify, but should maintain the initiative over Soviet Russia gained when the treaty was signed at San Francisco. Further he has pointed out that undue delay might enable Russia to scare off some of the smaller signatory countries.

The Senate should lose little time in effecting United States ratification of the Japanese compact.

SENATE TOYS WITH TV IDEA

Sen. Estes Kefauver, the Tennessee Democrat, likes to believe he made a great hit with the public when his crime commission hearings, complete with diamond studded rack-teers, were televised. Some have even suggested that Kefauver should be given the distinction of running for vice president on a ticket with Truman.

Seeing all this going on, the Senate has toyed with the idea of televising its sessions, or some of the less dreary ones in which the senators speak their best pieces. If the Senate did that, the House of course, would follow suit. Then the various bureaus would be tempted.

If all the politicians are going to get on television programs, what time will be left for entertainment after all the commercials have been intoned?

The bathtub was invented in 1800 B.C. On a Saturday no doubt.

A New York burglar swiped 75 copper coins. He must be under the impression pennies are still money.

Our big cities now will never get rid of their pesky pigeons—what with all those perfectly dandy TV aerials on which to roost.

For better health people should be happy while eating, advises a noted medico. That's easy, doc—just tell 'em everything is on the house!

N.A.T.O. Meeting At Ottawa

The vast importance of Canada—a major nation in the councils of the world despite its small population of 14 millions—was brought to international attention by the seventh session of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

This latest meeting in the historic capital of Ottawa was called on a far more business-like basis than previous convocations which dealt far more with hopes and dreams.

Its function is clear-cut—to put the NATO on a working basis that will ensure not only the military defense of the democratic world against communist aggression, but guarantee at the same time that the western nations do not go bankrupt in the process.

For this reason, the presence of gifted economic experts from the western nations is regarded as of utmost importance.

Military experts are in Ottawa, and along with them are the representatives of the departments of state from the 12 countries which signed themselves into the NATO and at the same time gave a pledge to go to war if necessary to stand off further Soviet expansion.

But correspondents in Ottawa reporting on the initial phases of the conference have underlined heavily the role that financial and economic advisers will play. For it is now a general realization that peace cannot be had without tremendous expense and that budgets as well as bullets must be taken into consideration.

Of Particular Significance

The fact that the meeting assembled in Ottawa is of particular significance.

For it was Canada which first proposed creation of the NATO. This was not primarily for her own defense. She, like the United States, still has the comparative protection of two oceans.

The Canadians, in deference to deep friendship with the United States and full cognizance of American intentions to resist with all possible strength any new inroads by communism, put the machinery in motion to effect an international agreement which may prove to be one of the most important in history.

They had witnessed with dismay what Winston Churchill has called the "dismemberment" of the British Empire.

They welcomed well enough the extension of dominion status to other sections of the "commonwealth preferences" in trade and tariffs and felt themselves—and still do—consider themselves—closely bound to the British throne and the "mother of parliaments" along the Thames.

Rome Conference To Follow

The Ottawa meeting is to be followed by another full-dress conference of Atlantic defense countries in Rome next month. The new session promises to be something quite different again. Italy, with eloquently-voiced claims for treaty revisions from the western world, will at that time hold the rostrum.

Italy's premier, Dr. Alcide De Gasperi, achieved something of a diplomatic record on his arrival in New York and on his departure for Canada by side-stepping with suave ability all questions regarding his own nation's problems.

A new peace treaty stands at the top of them. But he also has in mind his present and future relations with Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia. The question of Trieste remains unsolved as to whether this great Adriatic port is to be a sinecure of Italian or Yugoslavian strength.

In addition to these two issues, there are those of Italian unemployment, agrarian reform and a needed impetus to Italian industry that De Gasperi and his cabinet feel can come only from a lavish allocation of western defense production orders.

It is highly probable that De Gasperi's role at Ottawa may be more or less that of an observer. He will present economic and military figures on the strength of Italy and of his country's ability to contribute to defense.

But the final portrait of Italy's future in Europe may well await a meeting in Rome. De Gasperi knows the advantage of being on his home grounds, and the peace and defense picture now in the process of blueprinting likely will find its last stamp of approval affixed on the banks of the Tiber.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

George and Helen Papashvily, authors of the memorable "Anything Can Happen, Own a Herd of the Darkest Sheep in New Jersey. Believe it or not, these sheep are made of stern stuff, they actually have all the dogs in the neighborhood scared stiff.

It's an everyday occurrence for a passing motorist to charge in to the Papashvily study exclaiming, "My gosh, there's a sheep chasing a dog down your pasture!" Mr. P. adds sadly, "It usually takes a couple of glasses of my best wine to get these people over the shock."

One winter in La Quinta, Calif., I met my old friend, George Macy, and was shocked to note how emaciated he looked. There were gaunt hollows in his cheeks and his clothes hung loosely on his back. "Have you been sick?" I asked anxiously. "Not at all," Macy answered me. "It's just that my wife has been on Cedric Adams' reducing diet."

ROSE BUGS

Rose bugs sometimes are pretty troublesome. They spoil rose bushes and cause a lot of damage. There are other bugs which cause trouble too. Bed bugs which are troublesome and usually are found where the premises are not very sanitary.

Roaches are not very choicy about their travels. They run around over the dinner table and then go to other places and come back.

Bed bugs travel too. Sometimes they sleep on Judy O'Grady and then on the captain's lady. They are not always asleep either.

"Jones," the neighbor remarked, "you certainly keep your car clean." The proud owner grinned and rejoined, "Heck, it's mutual—it keeps me clean, too."

From Me To You

By MESEALL

You are right . . . it was due to a typographical error that the name of the new sports car being made in America came out Mintz . . . it should have been Muntz. . . "Mad Man" Muntz was called back in the days just after WWII . . . and he got that name by selling cars in California . . . he sold 'em like a mad man. Right now Muntz is producing a sports car with Lincoln motor . . . and he's interested in TV broadcasting . . . really a big operator. Also the English car of James Melton should have read Daimler.

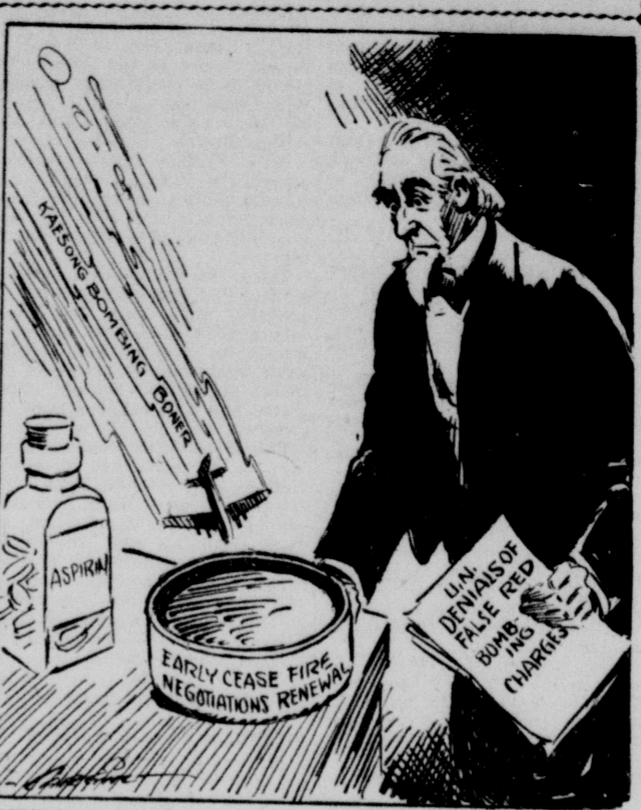

Why are we so excited about the Grand Prix at Watkins Glen . . . it looks like a good deal . . . People again becoming interested in the motor car as something to take care of . . . to be proud of . . . and besides, there is room for a smaller version of such an event right here in Lawrence County . . . perhaps we couldn't draw 200,000 people, but we could make a meet attractive . . . and at the same time pound safety driving home.

There is a place and time for high speed cars . . . a good driver knows his place and time. . . It's the poor driver . . . the hot rod people, who think that every street and highway is a race way that makes for unsafe operation of a motor car. The meetings of motor car enthusiasts is not a meet for bang-up racing. . . The big event at the Glen was halted because one spectator stepped out onto the racing course. Safety first . . . speed second.

The racing of horses is dangerous unless certain rules are made and then enforced . . . there's the difference to be sure. . . But pure out and out sports-minded people love the sports . . . be it football . . . basketball . . . baseball or horse racing. . . It is with the motor car. Just operating a "machine" that's made with care and cared for with kindness is a pleasure that only the motor car lover can enjoy. Fortunately not everyone is so minded . . . but we feel that every driver should be so minded that he would be willing to practice safety.

A sports car club here would be a boom to that thinking . . . those who failed to tie up to the rules set would be ineligible to partake in the organizations program. Are you interested?

FLY IN THE UN OINTMENT

Peron As Husband

(By HENRY McLEMORE)

I hate Juan Peron of Argentina as a dictator, but I shoud admire him as a husband.

I despise the way he has the great country of Argentina under his heavy thumb, but as a husband I must tip my toe to him. His wife, Evita, considers him the perfect man. She said so about a month ago when she compared him with the Lord. Without him, she said in so many words, there would be no world, and went on to say that she couldn't picture the universe spinning unless Juan was there to give a few orders.

Not many husbands ever make their wives feel this way. Without having the statistics at my fingertips I would be willing to guess that a majority of wives look upon their husbands as necessary nuisances. This does not apply to the honeymoon period, of course, when women are starry-eyed and eager to show off their trousseaux.

Most Get Disillusioned

Most wives get slightly disillusioned when they return from the honeymoon and have to bend over a hot stove and not look at the moon, have to send out sheets and pillowcases, instead of walking on air, and have to provide their own room service without the help of a white-jacketed waiter.

Juan Peron seems to have this thing whipped dead flat. Any time his wife does anything that pleases him he has a gold medal struck in her honor. When she refused to run for vice-president this year, Mr. Peron didn't just put her on the back and say, "Atta girl." He gave her the Grand Peronist Medal, Extraordinary Grade, for her self-denial.

From a source so close to President Peron's house that I dare not reveal my informant, I understand that Juan has given Evita the following medals in the past year:

1. The Solid Gold Honorary Nylons Award for not getting runs in her stockings between breakfast and lunch.
2. The Peron Underwear Medal for not hanging her panties and girdle on the master bedroom shower bath rod. This medal is of pure platinum with two couchant slips.
3. The Greater Argentina Super Cross for not complaining when he snores. This is an exceptionally lovely medal. It shows a dictator sleeping on his back and nightglasses hovering between his nose and the ceiling.

Wouldn't It Be Nice?

Wouldn't it be nice if all American husbands could hand out medals as if they were Life Savers? President Peron apparently cooks them up as the reward of us do brownies or fudge. He's not a handsome man, nor is she a handsome woman. I've seen them several times and if you stripped them of their power they'd look like people on public beaches.

If Evita is beautiful, then I can't see how you would describe Elizabeth Taylor. And if President Juan is handsome then Gary Grant is not only outside of My barber says it hadn't occurred to him how much Felix Frankfurter had slipped under the Yale campus many times and named a Yale man to succeed General Marshall.

There was a time there that a fellow who wanted to get any place in Washington would pass through New Haven with the Pullman shade drawn so he wouldn't be suspected of admiring the scenery.

And if he happened to be reading the Harvard Crimson at the time his chances were that much rosier.

On top of naming Bob Lovett, the President found work for Chief Bowles, who has been seen in the Yale campus many times and that makes the trend look definite.

Chester seems to be able to give Nehru a few points on successful advertising and public relations. . . . Recently Nehru has seemed to be more responsive to Moscow than Madison avenue from whence all good campaigns flow.

MODERN PHOTOGRAPHY

Beneath a cloth he didn't hide
Or bid me turn to left or right.
He didn't fling the curtains wide
To get a little extra light.
He didn't use a sturdy clamp
Less movement of my head
Should show.

He got me with a flashing lamp
How different from the long ago!

"Now just one more!" I heard him say.
Since all photographers say that.
But I recalled a by-gone day
When for a family group we sat.
How hard that gallery owner tried
To get us all in focus then,
When I was at the mother's side
Where here we'll never pose again.

How quickly time and skill improve
What once took tedious care
To do!

Now, camera men will let you move
And hold you still with gadgets new.
A snap! And the photographer said:
"Very nice, and that is all."

How different when we sat with her—
The mother and the children small.

Revolt In Poorhouse-3

(By HOLMES ALEXANDER)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 18.—Among the early promises of the Marshall planners—and they were quite snickered—was the vow that we'd never, never interfere in the internal politics of member nations, but very little was said about the reverse proposition—the intervention of member nations in our political affairs.

What's happened, however, is that the intervention has become reciprocal and ever-increasing. No European election season is now complete without Friendship Trains, propaganda balloons, roadshows depicting American know-how and prosperity, promises of porkbarrel patronage and personal appearances by U. S. ambassadors.

Thus far we stay-at-homes have been spared torchlight parades by West Europeans in our own campaigns, but it's a freedom which we may not enjoy much longer. Between now and the '52 election we must expect severe pressures, some overt and some camouflaged, from our overseas partners.

West Europeans Hold Power

For the boot of political influence has changed feet since the Marshall Plan was inaugurated in 1948, following a period known as "interim aid." Time was when we were able to kick reluctant populations along with promises of help and threats of no-help. But today and into the foreseeable future, it's the West Europeans who hold this time-tested power of political propulsion. The headline nations are saying by implication that unless we quit cutting economic aid, and unless we elect another giveaway administration next year, they will:

1. Hold nation-wide strikes.
2. Reduce their military commitments to the Atlantic Treaty.
3. Even look to the East for better trade relations.

All of these warnings are implicit in reports coming from West Europe to the Marshall Plan headquarters here. The reports were used, in fragmented forms, to influence Congressional voting on the recent Mutual Assistance Act. We must expect that the same sort of pressure will be used, much more forthrightly, during the second session of the 82nd Congress and during the '52 campaign. By one of those dramatic little accidents of history, the GOP Convention meets next June, the same month that the Marshall Plan theoretically comes to an end. There'll be no West European delegates on the floor, but who can discount their influence? It'll be downright remarkable if the Republicans dare nominate a candidate who hasn't given pledges of financial support to the absentee foreigners.

If this isn't political intervention, then neither are the familiar demands of farmers, veterans, workers and other home-grown pressure groups.

Ironical Humor Is Seen

But the ironic humor of it is that we can do nothing to re-declare our political independence from Europe. Like Sinbad, who gave the Old Man of the Sea a piggy-back ride, we are totting a burden which will not voluntarily vamoos and which we have lost the freedom of choice to dislodge.

It is a situation which needs to be appraised with more ruefulness than bitterness. We have so managed our international affairs that the question of European aid has almost reached the state of being undebatable. If the West Europeans needed us in the aftermath of World War II, we now need them just as desperately as we have in the early light of World War III. Lose West Europe, as we have in the past, and we lose India, and we are minus 275 million people with a military force of 132 million, these being the latest Marshall Plan figures. Little as we can afford to go on shouldering the Old Man of the Sea, we can still less afford to dump him.

Yet the irony is not complete until we take in one further fact. The Marshall Plan, a receptacle of our highest hopes and generosity, has not been a success; it has been a failure. The dismal proof lies in statistics which clearly show that our $15 billion investment has not raised West Europe's living standards to anything like a safe or satisfactory level. Real earnings of workers are actually below pre-war levels in France, Italy, Greece, Turkey, Portugal, Germany and Austria. The gap between wages and prices has depressed purchasing power till a man-hour of labor in France, a key country, buys only 28 per cent of what it buys in America where we think we have inflation.

Marshall planners are trying to save the day by a training program in productivity, but there are no such easy answers. If the Marshall Plan had been a Machiavellian plan, it couldn't have put us in a stranger fix.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

"O say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?"

Remember our national anthem?
Don't you hear it at every patriotic occasion?
But what does it mean?
Just words?
Where is the SPIRIT of that anthem?

"Blest with victory and peace,
may the Head'-rescued land
Praise the Power that hath made and preserved us a nation."
Where is victory? Where is peace?

Something has gone out of our lives. I don't know just what it is—but it was something grand and beautiful and fine.

Else, why do we let those treacherous Chinese and North Koreans call us liars? The brave soldiers of Francis Scott Key's time would have made short shrift of them.

Why do we kowtow to the wishes of Great Britain, as if we had become one of her colonies again? Why do we permit her to accept our money, but let her trade with Russia and recognize Red China?

Why do we let Premier Schuman of France have the impertinence to tell us that we must get the permission of his country and the other United Nations members before we can continue our fight in Korea the way it ought to be fought?

And why did we not bomb Manchuria and North Korea when we could have stopped the war that way and saved thousands of our men?

Why do we permit Vladimir Prochazka the Czech ambassador, to tell Truman and Acheson to mind their own business—that the Oatis case is CLOSED?

Why do we let India thumb her nose at us with one hand by boycotting the Japanese treaty meeting, while stretching out the other for our wheat with which to feed her starving millions?

Why do we suffer Andrei Gromyko and his band of hijackers in our country at all, instead of kicking them out?

And why do we let the Communists traitors, convicted of treason, go scot-free on low bail to do us more harm and to destroy our country? In the days of the Star-Spangled Banner they used to shoot the traitor, not coddle him.

Why do we grant diplomatic immunity to all the thousands of United Nations riff-raff that come to our country, live high at our expense, hang around our night clubs and laugh at us?

Why on earth are we members of the United Nations at all? What have these "united nations" done for us except bleed us white?

"And the Star-Spangled Banner in TRIUMPH SHALL WAVE,
O'er the land of the free and the home of the BRAVE."

Not if things go on like they are now. Instead it looks more like the last verse of "Yankee Doodle":

"It scared me so I hoofed it off,
Nor stopped, as I remember,
Nor turned about till I got home,
Locked up in mother's chamber."

Seventh Ward

Await End Of Daylight Time

Most Ward Homes Using Two Schedules

With the opening of school, most ward homes are operating on two schedules, railroad workers on Eastern Standard Time and school children on Daylight Savings Time.

Residents are counting the hours until Sunday, September 30, when all clocks in ward households will once more register one time—Eastern Standard. During the summer, when schools were not open, it was not so difficult, but since the resumption of school sessions some confusion has resulted.

If perchance a child glanced at Dad's clock in the morning and thought it was school time, he would arrive at school an hour late. When Dad's clock read eight o'clock, it was actually 9 o'clock according to Daylight Time. Dad might get a little confused too if he happened to glance at Junior's clock and would perhaps get to work an hour early.

The ward families with railroad workers in the home and school children too, have just 11 more days and some few odd hours and the time problem will be solved at least for another seven months.

When the time comes to move the hands of the Daylight Savings clocks back to standard time, it might be wise to appoint one member of the household to perform the task, cause Junior's clock might be turned back to Dad's time and another member might turn it back another hour upsetting the schedule momentarily again in the home too peaceful time disturbed homes.

Propose Raising Legislators' Salaries

HARRISBURG, Sept. 18.—(INS)—Lawmakers reporting for the 1953 session of the General Assembly would earn $5,000 a regular session instead of $3,000, under legislation before the House with bi-partisan sponsorship.

If adopted—legislators have not been shy about voting themselves expense accounts plus an increase in the past—the bill would add $516,000 a biennium to the $744,000 now paid out each regular session in five installments with the last check held until the final day of each biennial meeting.

Earlier in the 1951 session legislators boosted their $100-a-month expense accounts to $150 and thus raised the biennial bill for the item to $928,800.

The measure was co-sponsored by House majority leader Charles C. Smith of Philadelphia, and Minority Leader Hiram G. Andrews of Cambria.

Smokers Pay State $11,086,000 Taxes For Three Months

HARRISBURG, Sept. 18.—(INS)—Pennsylvania smokers paid $11,086,000 in state cigarette taxes in April, May and June of 1951.

The amount was cited at the National Tobacco Tax Association's convention at Harrisburg as evidence that the Keystone state's cigarette tax bill is second highest in the country.

New York was reported first with $15,091,000 in the same period and Texas third with $8,494,000.

Yet, the association was told, Pennsylvania's smokers consume an average of only 2060 cigarettes a year compared with the national average of 2420.

Economic Screws Being Applied To Red Satellites

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—(INS)—The United States began today to apply economic screws to Soviet satellites as a means of drawing them away from the Russian orbit.

President Truman announced that Bulgaria, closet of the satellites and also one of the most important because of her proximity to Turkey and Europe, will be denied the benefits of the most favored nation's clause in her exports to the United States.

This will crack hardest on Bulgaria's sales of cigarette leaf to tobacco to the dollar area. These form the bulk of her dollar exports last year, reaching close to one million dollars.

Bulgaria gained the benefit of lower tobacco duties as a result of a 1939 trade agreement with Turkey which produces the same type of tobacco.

Holiday Lighting Of Streets Considered

Whether or not there will be Christmas lighting of the streets of New Castle this Christmas season depends upon the reaction of the retail merchants.

At a meeting held in the Greater New Castle Association offices a lighting plan was presented which appears to be much more effective than those used in other years.

The plan, drawn by Otto Pearl, calls for lighting the downtown district from Beaver to Court streets on Washington.

This year's plan calls for the use of bells, stars and wreaths in addition to the laurel and other evergreen ropes.

Nothing definite was decided at the meeting Monday but the matter is being presented to each merchant by mail.

FANCY PASSING

Johnny Lujack first hit the country's headlines in college football and then went to further glory with the Chicago Bears. His phenomenal passing in 1949 netted him 2,658 yards—or, roughly, a mile and a half. Johnny tells us he gets pretty good mileage in his car which he always keeps in tip-top condition. "I like something I can depend on—that's why I use 'Prestone' anti-freeze in my car," says Johnny. "I put it in and forget about it right on into Spring. I know my radiator won't freeze up in bitter cold... and it won't boil over, no matter how warm it gets between cold spells. It's tops!" One shot lasts all winter. No other anti-freeze gives you the same degree of protection as "Prestone" brand anti-freeze.

You're SET

One shot lasts all winter!

You're SAFE

No rust... no foam... no freeze... no failure!

Smokers Pay State $11,086,000 Taxes For Three Months

HARRISBURG, Sept. 18.—(INS)—Pennsylvania smokers paid $11,086,000 in state cigarette taxes in April, May and June of 1951.

The amount was cited at the National Tobacco Tax Association's convention at Harrisburg as evidence that the Keystone state's cigarette tax bill is second highest in the country.

New York was reported first with $15,091,000 in the same period and Texas third with $8,494,000.

Yet, the association was told, Pennsylvania's smokers consume an average of only 2060 cigarettes a year compared with the national average of 2420.

Probe Into Death Of Ex-Opera Singer

ATLANTA, Sept. 18.—(INS)—A probe of the death of a former Metropolitan Opera coloratura was launched today in Atlanta by a coroner's jury.

Mrs. Suzanne Keener Barr died Monday after being taken to a hospital for emergency treatment. Coroner Ed Almand said the coroner's jury will order an autopsy if necessary to establish the cause and manner of death.

Mrs. Barr, a native of Pittsburgh, moved to Atlanta about 10 years ago, following her retirement from the opera. She was author of a book of poetry published under the title "Silent Singing."

President and Mrs. Rutherford B. Hayes were the first couple to celebrate their silver wedding anniversary in the White House.

A. F. Of L. To Seek Taft-Hartley Act Repeal In 1952

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 18.—(INS)—The American Federation of Labor will make an all-out political fight in 1952 for repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act.

Thirty members of the federation's administrative committee of labor's League for Political Education today mapped plans for such a battle after the opening session of the A. F. of L. national convention in San Francisco yesterday.

The convention was launched by veteran President William Green, who pledged 8,000,000 federation members to the defeat of Soviet Russia.

School Conditions At New Bedford Cause Of Protest

Approximately 100 persons from the New Bedford area, gathered at the grange hall in New Bedford last night, for a meeting with the members of the school board.

Conditions in the schools, especially with regard to difficulties encountered that temporarily prevent heating of the school building, and also the grange building, which is being used as a meeting place for some of the school grades were protested by the group.

Due to the overcrowding of the school building arrangements were made to use the grange hall. But difficulties arose that affected heating and accommodations for the students, that aroused the protest last night.

Efforts are to be made to meet the situation, as a result of the meeting.

Mrs. Carl Eppinger, president of the school board presided.

Lack of school desks is a handicap at the grange hall at the present time. Until the grange hall heater is ready, pupils will be dismissed if the weather is too cold, it is reported.

First place winner among the larger companies was Pennsylvania Electric Company, Johnstown, with a low-frequency rate for lost-time accidents of 3.92. Medical Society President Assails State Legislators

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 18. —(INS) —State legislators are politicians and not statesmen.

So declared Dr. Harold B. Gardner, president of the Pennsylvania Medical Society, in a speech today before the society's house of delegates at the 101st annual convention of the society which opened in Pittsburgh Monday.

Dr. Gardner stated: "Throughout the years in relationships on Capitol Hill, we physicians have tried to be statesmen and not politicians. Our efforts during the past year have forced me to conclude that the average legislator is primarily a politician and not a statesman; that his vote is determined by the number of letters he receives and not by his own convictions."

Calls For Program
Dr. Gardner urged doctors to work through the public in getting action in the state legislature. He called for "a more comprehensive program of public education."

Although critical of the legislature, Dr. Gardner praised Gov. John S. Fine for "his vision and cooperation" in appointing Dr. Russell Teague as state secretary of Health.

He gave the legislature some credit for passing the public health package which set up a merit system of employment and tenure in the State department. He was lukewarm about the chiropractor's bill, which he apparently believes had been over-amended.

Pastors Resume Sessions Monday

Name Rev. Spring New Secretary Replacing Miss Shirley Webber

New Castle Ministerial Association opened its fall season Monday, in the First Presbyterian church, with a good attendance present for the initial session.

Rev. George Sarber, new president of the organization, presided over the meeting and introduced Rev. F. D. Marshall of the City Rescue Mission who was in charge of the devotional period. Miss Shirley Webber presided at the piano.

Introduction of new members was the initial item on the lengthy agenda of the day. The following pastors new to the community within the past few months, were properly introduced to their ministerial brethren: Rev. Henry Metcalf, Edinburg Methodist church; Dr. Louis Worley, Mahoningtown Presbyterian church; Rev. Aaron Powers, associate pastor Second U. P.; Rev. A. Warren, St. Paul's Baptist church; Dr. Garth Koch, First Baptist church; Rev. Dale K. Milligan, Highland U. P. church and Rev. James Blackwell, Mahoning avenue mission.

Elect Secretary

Due to the fact that Miss Shirley Webber, who has been serving as secretary-treasurer, is leaving the city to take up her duties in Nuremberg, Germany with the U. S. Army special services division it was necessary to accept her resignation and elect a new secretary-treasurer. Rev. Everett Spring, pastor of the Wesley Methodist church was elected to the position and will take office at the next meeting.

Several pastors voiced their appreciation of the services of Miss Webber in the past and a rising vote of thanks was extended to her for her excellent work.

Announcement was made by Dr. A. C. Schultz that the offering of $317.80 received during the summer series of meetings would be divided between the New Castle Ministerial Association and the New Castle Council of Churches after expenses were deducted. A check for $93.45 was given to each of these organizations. The association's proportion was turned over to the chaplain fund.

Speaker To Come

Miss Dorothy Stewart, Y. W. C. A. executive secretary presented a book list to the pastors as recommended reading. She announced the coming to the city of Dr. Channing Lien, chief of the Department of Political Science at Pennsylvania College for Women on Monday, October 1 at 7:30 p. m. in the Y. W. C. A. Dr. Lien who was born in Korea will speak on some phase of the Korean problem.

Rev. H. H. Grove resigned as chairman of the rules and regulations committee. Dr. J. P. Graham is the new chairman.

Report of the Almira Home work and issuing of assignments was given by Rev. Everett Spring, chairman of that committee. Dr. Robert M. Patterson released the County Home assignments.

Dr. A. Culmer Schultz, pastor of First Methodist church and program chairman for the year announced a tentative program for the coming months. The program as outlined follows: October 1, candidates for mayoralty post in city; November 5, Business and Professional club representatives; December 3, Christmas theme; January 7, medical profession program; February 4, Brotherhood meeting; March 3, Lenten program; March 31, Holy week program; May 5, management problems; June 2, Labor problems.

Rev. Robert Mayo, pastor of First U. P. church, radio chairman, announced the radio schedule for the coming months. He also announced the pastors responsible for the Community Chest program in the various churches of their denomination.

Announce Clothing Drive Dr. J. Calvin Rose, pastor of Second U. P. church, announced that a meeting of the New Castle Council of Churches will be held at the Second U. P. church on Thursday, September 27 at 7:45 p. m. He stated that a clothing drive sponsored by the council would be undertaken. A committee was appointed to explore the possibility of conducting a Ministerial sponsored city-wide evangelist effort in the near future.

Due to the fact that Dr. G. S. Bennett, honored member of the association is retiring after 23 years service in the city, a recommendation was made that a resolution be drawn up commending Dr. Bennett on his work. A committee will be appointed to arrange a testimonial dinner honoring Dr. Bennett and Mrs. Bennett in the near future.

Rev. Mayo closed the session with prayer with the next meeting to be conducted on October 1 and monthly sessions to be held thereafter.

Haas Recommended For Another Term

HARRISBURG, Sept. 18.—(INS) Another four-year term for superintendent of public instruction Francis B. Haas was recommended to the senate executive nominations committee today by Gov. John S. Fine.

Haas's reappointment was announced tentatively by Fine August 23 but he must win confirmation by the senate to continue in office and collect $15,000 a year or $3,000 more than under his old commission.

Haas has been superintendent since 1939 when he moved into the post after service on the faculty of the Bloomsburg State Teachers college. He held the job temporarily a quarter of a century ago but failed to win the senate's approval.

Governor Of Rotary Speaks

Walter Tells Club Of Rotary Greatness

N. J. Walter

New Castle Rotary club had its first visitation from the new district governor Nels J. Walter of DuBois, who told the club of Rotary's greatness and importance at the weekly luncheon meeting of the club in The Castleton, Monday noon.

Rotary, he stated, is not a religion, but it takes one thing out of all religions, service to one's fellow man. At the last international assembly of Rotary, clubs were represented from all over the world, and they got along wonderfully well because all were united in the common bond of friendship.

Rotary is a potent force for peace, he pointed out, and those coming from far lands seems more enthusiastic about Rotary's program in this regard than the members in the United States.

He stated that political leaders in Japan and Germany have expressed the opinion that had there been a large number of Rotary clubs in these respective countries, the recent world conflagration might never have occurred.

Changes, which will take place in Rotary, will be the establishment of a senior active membership, whereby those who have been in Rotary for 15 years or more will have this degree conferred upon them. It will take away no privileges now enjoyed, but will release that particular vocation for some younger man, making it possible to increase Rotary's membership and bring in younger men.

The job of New Castle Rotary club, he stated, is to keep Rotary strong. The per capita assessment which is sent to national headquarters by the club is money well spent, he stated. It is put to the best use possible.

No money, he reminded the club members, is spent in organizing new clubs. They are organized because members like those in the New Castle club want others to have what they have.

Rotary has expanded tremendously since the war ended, and surveys are now being conducted in foreign lands to determine that once Rotary is established in these places, it will stay.

Guests of the club included Ernie Bergstrom of DuBois, Capt. Zoltair of the Salvation Army in Youngstown and O. K. and Earl Cone of Columbiana, O.

PLASTICS

The quickest way to wash a plastic shower curtain is to soak it in a tub of soapy water, then dry it on right and wrong sides with a bath towel held in each hand.

Natrona Heights Man Becomes Blazing Torch

TARENTUM, Pa., Sept. 18.—(INS)—A 58-year-old nearby Natrona Heights man, turned into a human torch by blazing oil, died yesterday in Allegheny Valley hospital at Tarentum.

The victim was identified as Carl F. Sauers.

Allegheny County Morgue officials said Sauers was working with an acetylene torch last Sunday at the Allegheny Ludlum Steel corporation's nearby Brackenridge plant when the oil line broke.

He was showered with the fiery liquid.

Folks Of Fame

The son of a devout Methodist layman and mine executive, Bishop C. Bromley Oxnam was born in Sonora, Cal. Now 57, he is chunky strong-voiced prelate who looks and dresses like a prosperous businessman. His leftist social views got him listed in The Red Network by Elizabeth Dilling. He married shortly after graduating from the University of Southern California. As a fledgling minister in 1917, he was assigned to a run-down Los Angeles church with a $15,000 debt. Eventually he built it into one of the great parishes of U. S. Methodism.

Mario Lanza's idea of dieting, based on the theory that proteins do not add weight to the human frame, is to pile chicken legs, half-pound chunks of rare steak and a mound of barbecued kidneys on his plate, eat them, and then heap on a second helping. He learned to sing by listening to phonograph records. This year he will earn close to $1 million. He was born Jan. 31, 1921, in South Philadelphia and was a street-gang wiseguy who never did a day's work until he was 21. One of his teachers calls him "one of the biggest bums who ever came into the public school system." His real name is Alfredo Arnold Cocozza.

Relief Bureau Reducing Staff

HARRISBURG, Sept. 18.—(INS)—The state public assistance department reduced its staff 11 per cent in the last year. Secretary Eleanor G. Evans said the number was cut 488 to a total of 4,064 employees during the year ended August 31 in line with a sharp decline in relief rolls.

Must Remove Tree At Own Expense

Phillip Winter, contractor, asked the city to move a tree in the cartway of Fairmont avenue between Delaware and Audley avenues. Solicitor Robert White told him the owner of abutting property is responsible for the expense, hence Mr. Winter will be required to pay if the tree is removed. He is building in Fairmont avenue.

THE BIRTH OF A PROFESSION

How the practice of the healing arts first came into existence is unknown. Undoubtedly a sickness prompted someone to do something for an ailing friend or relative. The value of herbs may have been discovered by accident or by observing the habits of sick animals. Pharmacy had its birth when the first herb was processed prior to administration. Today no profession is more highly specialized. It is based on scientific fact. Centuries of medical progress and years of experience and formal education form the background for the service rendered by pharmacists of today. We appreciate the opportunity to serve.

Criminal Term Folds Rapidly

Rush To Plead, Cuts Down List

As usual, the September term of criminal court came apart at the seams with opening of the trial sessions Monday. Out of a long list of cases, three remained for trial late Monday and of the three one is expected to plead.

In court room number one Eugene Dudash went on trial for indecent exposure. His counsel asked that the jury be taken to the scene of the alleged crime but District Attorney Sherman K. Levine objected.

Attorney Joseph Solomon then said the defense would pay the cost of a bus to take the jury down and this was done. Dudash is attempting to throw out a confession he signed in the police station shortly after he was arrested in April.

In court room two Tom Maielli came on for trial upon a charge of driving while intoxicated. He denies being intoxicated at the time he was arrested and said that two hours after he was arrested the police department gave him back his automobile keys and told him to drive home.

PROTESTS AWARD

Charles L. Pile, a plumbing contractor appeared before the board of county commissioners Monday morning to protest the awarding of a bid for a boiler for the court house to L. W. McConnell at a price of $3177. The bid was for a steel boiler. Mr. Pile bid $2775 for a cast iron boiler.

Mr. Pile claimed the specifications sheet he got from the county commissioners' office said nothing about steel boilers. Acting Solicitor Leroy K. Donaldson said the specifications as printed in the advertisement held.

After some discussion the commissioners laid the matter over until Friday, September 21 when it will be decided whether or not the award should be withdrawn and the job advertised for bids again.

ASKS REGISTRATION DATES

Sheriff Frank L. Coen, chairman of the Lawrence County Republican committee appeared before the county commissioners Monday morning and asked that special registration dates be set for New Bedford and Enon Valley. The commissioners took the request under advisement.

County Council P.T.A. Begins Fall Programs

Lawrence County Council P.T.A. met in the parlor of the YWCA Monday evening and launched a series of educational programs planned for adult education.

This program is for forwarding the idea that to keep our democracy safe the adults must, as individuals, take an active interest in community and national affairs. An interest to develop a lay-leadership and a thirst for facts and to inspire through informative truths the will to do much toward allaying our fears and strengthening our morale.

Mr. Gallagher of the local social security office commented on the present social security set-up. By the use of film, it was shown just how the present law works. It was pointed out that many people fail to understand hence do not appreciate the benefits that may be derived from this source.

Following the film, the meeting was opened for discussion. A very interesting audience plied Mr. Gallagher with questions which he capably explained. He further explained that this film on the workings of the social security is available to the public and any civic organization may have the use of it. Mr. Brumhall of the Penn Power company worked the projector.

Next meeting of the Lawrence County Council P.T.A. will be held October 15 in the YWCA.

Tifereth Men's Club Plans Ball

President William Myers and his committee are working hard to make this event a wonderful success.

Appearance Of Franchot Tone May Be Changed

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 18.—(INS)
—Physicians who once said that Patricia-franchot Tone would suffer no disfigurement from the beating given to him by Tom Neal now say they do not know.

He could come out of the bandages with a profile like Lou Nova or Bill Bendix.

Dr. Leland House, the surgeon who patched up Tone's battered face after the brawl over buxom Barbara Payton's affections, said: "There's absolutely no telling what his face will look like until the bandages are of and the swelling is down."

"In a general way, it's reasonable certain he'll look like Franchot Tone—but as for closeups—?"

The actor's personal physician, Dr. Lee Siegel, added that Tone would be in the hospital for at least two more weeks.

Weide Honored On Retirement

More than 100 local postal employees held an informal gathering at the home of Leroy Allhouse, of Cottage Grove, to honor Carl Weide, of South Mill street, who retired from service as a letter carrier at the local post office July 1.

Mr. Weide entered the post office here in the fall of 1916, and after 35 years of pounding the sidewalks in all kinds of weather, decided it was time to hang up the old mail pouch. Mr. Weide had served the East Side district most of that time.

He will be greatly missed by his fellow workers, but each and every one wish him a happy and lasting period of enjoyment during his retirement. In order to make that wish more fruitful, they presented him with a nice easy chair as a remembrance from them. Mr. Weide is undecided on his future plans, but expects to take things easy.

During the course of the evening, a fine corn, hamburger, and wiener roast was enjoyed, with lots of trimmings.

The committee in charge of the arrangements, who aided Mr. Allhouse, consisted of: Jack Wilson, Jesse Wilson, Alvin Wilson, Harold Dickson, Frank Hay and Evan Lewis.

PERSONALS

William J. Ridenbaugh of Court street, who has been ill since February, is slowly improving, and is unable to return to his work yet.

Mrs. R. B. Davenport of East Wallace avenue has returned home after attending the funeral of her brother, Elton Griffith, in Oil City.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Uber of 10 E. Garfield avenue are attending the northeastern section of the American Urological association in Lake Placid, N. Y.

Mrs. J. W. Goodrich Sr. and children Raymond, Norman and Rosemary, have returned to their home at 412 Bell avenue after spending five weeks with friends and relatives in Toledo, Ohio.

Pvt. Ronald G. Sargeant has returned to his base following a short furlough spent with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Sargeant of 112 South Walnut street. Pvt. Sargeant is with the 68th Service Battery at Fort Hood, Tex.

The annual catch of swordfish caught on the Pacific coast of the United States runs to about half a million pounds.

Neff Resolution On State Schools Will Get Airing

HARRISBURG, Sept. 18.—(INS)—The Joint State Government Commission was authorized today by a Senate resolution to investigate the "problems of the physical expansion of the University of Pennsylvania and the University of Pennsylvania and Temple university."

The sponsor, Sen. Samuel G. Neff (D) Lawrence, said the problem of expansion is particularly acute at the Pittsburgh and two Philadelphia universities.

Under the resolution, the JSGC is directed to appoint a subcommittee to make the investigation and report to the next regular session of the general assembly in 1953.

SHOP SURRENDERED

Aged Storekeeper Routs Armed Thug

LEMOYNE, Pa., Sept. 18.—(INS)—Police are searching today for an armed robber who fled from a 73-year-old storekeeper who stabbed him four times and hit him over the head with a pop bottle.

A posse of 100 armed men hunted in vain for the robber last night.

The elderly victim of the holdup attempt suffered a broken nose and two black eyes—but he told police he stabbed the pistol-wielding assailant with a butcher knife after socking him with the bottle.

The robber escaped with four dollars. In change, he said, but missed another $90 in cash.

Disease Real Pacific Enemy

Lopez made his statement in convening the western Pacific regional conference of the world health organization at the Manila hotel.

Tax Amortization Grant Is Made To Blair Strip Steel

Among Pennsylvania firms granted certificates of necessity for accelerated tax amortization, announced today by the Defense Production Administration is the Blair Strip Steel company.

The certificates of necessity permit a firm engaged in producing critical materials to amortize their tax load on new buildings and equipment in a shorter time than ordinarily would be allowed. While it means practically the same tax load in the end it does give the industries an opportunity to use money temporarily saved for further expansion.

In the case of the Blair Strip Steel company it has erected a new building for warehousing purposes and installed some new equipment.

The certificates of necessity permit a firm engaged in producing critical materials to amortize their tax load on new buildings and equipment in a shorter time than ordinarily would be allowed.

While it means practically the same tax load in the end it does give the industries an opportunity to use money temporarily saved for further expansion.

In the case of the Blair Strip Steel company it has erected a new building for warehousing purposes and installed some new equipment.

Bolsinger To Be Honored

Has Attended 1500 Consecutive Meetings Of The Rotary Club

Ralph W. Bolsinger of Johnstown, Pa., will be honored September 26 for one of the most unusual records in the United States.

On that day Mr. Bolsinger will have attended his 1500th consecutive meeting of the Rotary club.

He was inducted into Rotary June 1, 1922, in New Castle when he was located here with the National Radiator company. He attended every meeting of the Rotary club here or made up in some other city for 724 consecutive meetings.

In 1936 he was transferred to Johnstown as secretary of the National Radiator company, and on January 7, 1942, the Johnstown club honored him for attending 1,000 consecutive meetings.

City Treasurer B. N. Hanlon and Senior High School Principal Clare B. Book will attend the Johnstown meeting as special guests, and other local Rotarians are expected to attend. L. Robert Adams, governor of Rotary district 261 will be the speaker at the meeting honoring Mr. Bolsinger.

While in New Castle Mr. Bolsinger was president of the New Castle Motor club for years and served a term as president of the New Castle Rotary club.

Pleads No Defense In Evasion Of Taxes

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 18.—(INS)—Lawrence S. Vadner, former paper box company owner, pleaded no defense Monday in Federal court to a charge of evading payment of $117,141 in income taxes in 1946.

Vadner, a Cynwyd resident, was indicted last November on charges of evading taxes totaling $415,717 for the years 1944 through 1946. This is the largest tax dodging case ever prosecuted in Philadelphia. U.S. Attorney Gerald Gleeson said that negotiations for settlement of the alleged evasions in 1945 and 1946 are under way. The indictments for those years were dropped.

'Health Education' Committee Will Act

HARRISBURG, Sept. 18.—(INS)—A "technical advisory committee on health education" was assigned to explain Pennsylvania's new local health law to the public.

State Health Secretary Russell E. Teague said the 12-member statewide committee is composed of representatives of organized medicine, voluntary health and welfare agencies and educational institutions.

The local health administration law aimed at decentralizing the state's control of public health services was signed into law by Gov. John S. Fine on August 24.

It permits creation of single or multi-county departments of health throughout the commonwealth if directed by a popular referendum or a resolution of county commissioners.

Boy Scouts of America will launch a three-year program known as "Forward on Liberty's Team," to help make America a nation of character, spiritually strong and worthy of emulation of the world, it was announced today by J. C. Hildebrand, scout executive of Lawrence county.

Mr. Hildebrand returned recently from the ninth national training conference of 2,200 Boy Scout executives and full-time professional leaders of the organization, who met for one week at Michigan State college at East Lansing, Mich. With the local scout executive at East Lansing was Clifford L. Jones, county field scout executive. There they studied methods of organization and recruiting.

Yankees Lead By Fun Game In Torrid Race By Edging Indians 2-1

Faltering Clevelanders To Play Red Sox Today

By HOWARD SIGMUND
(U. S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—The Indians, who find themselves a full game off the pace by virtue of a 2 to 1 loss to the Yankees yesterday, drop in today on the Boston Sizzles Sox, who've won six of their last seven games and are only 1½ games behind the tribe. They are 2½ out of first.

While Ed Lopat and Phil Rizzuto combined their talents to give the Yanks a sweep of their two-game set with the Indians, Boston took the measure of the Chicago White Sox, 12 to 5.

The Indians loss was the fifth for Cleveland in seven starts on their final eastern jaunt. It also was their tenth defeat in 11 Yankee stadium appearances this season.

Lopat, the chunky southpaw who has made a career out of chopping up the Indians, became the second American leaguer to win 20 games as he spun a three-hitter.

A spectacular squeeze bunt single by Rizzuto in the ninth inning sent Joe DiMaggio home from third with the run that beat Bob Lemon.

Lemon, who gave up seven hits, issued three to the little Scooter, who accounted for both Bomber tallies.

Rizzuto had something to do with Cleveland's run, too. His error set it up. Bob Avila singled it home.

Lemon suffered his 13th loss. Lopat won his 20th.

The other two games were in the National League and the Dodgers wished they had "stood in bed". Brooklyn took it on the chin in a double dose as they bowed, 5 to 3, to the Chicago Cubs.

In addition to having their lead trimmed to four games, its lowest station since June 3, the Dodgers got quite a scare when catcher Roy Campanella was struck in the head by a pitch thrown by Turk Lown.

Phils Edge Cards

X-rays showed there was no fracture. Campanella was said to have received a laceration of the left ear and remained in the hospital overnight. Campy may be out of action for several days.

Robin Roberts won his 20th game as the Philadelphia Phillies nosed out the St. Louis Cardinals, in ten innings, 2 to 1.

Phil Angle of Sharon, a member of the Pennsylvania Fish Commission, will be present, as will also Dr. Chatham of Sandy Lake, at the monthly meeting of the Lawrence County Sportsman's association meeting at 8 o'clock tonight in the Ecclesias club.

According to secretary Eddie Fritz, Jr., the association hopes to have the commission set aside Elliott's Run for fishing only with artificial lures. It is believed the effort may be successful.

It is reported that the commission has several such streams throughout the state.

Friday's Game Final Warmup For Hurricanes

Ne-Ca-Hi Embarks On WPIAL Schedule After East Game

New Castle high school will play its final non-league game Friday night when it meets Youngstown East here before embarking on its WPIAL schedule.

After Friday night's game with East the Red Hurricanes take on Sharon, McKeesport, Farrell and Turtle Creek in successive weeks.

Cane coaches are still experimenting trying to get the most out of the available material, but hope to have their lineup pretty well set for the Sharon game.

With two games under the wire, a battle for the starting guard positions is still going on. Fred McClain and Chuck Mangino have had the starting nod to date, but Bob Shelloff and Doc Walzer are constant threats.

Bob Meider has been a threat to James Caputo and Steve Belancin all season, and played a good game last Friday when Belancin was out due to an injury.

The expected return of Mitchell Charles to action within the next week or two should strengthen the Hurricanes, though it is not yet known where he will fit in—except in defense, where he is almost certain to back up the line.

The backfield of Cupido, Amodie, Cubellis and Fregel will probably remain intact this week, though several others, including Wilbur Foht and Dal Matthews threaten to break in some place.

HURRICANE BREEZES

Friends and admirers of Ralph "Pop" Gardner are working on "a day" for the popular ex-faculty manager. Pop has been an important cog in New Castle's football successes over the past 30 years.

A new addition to the scoreboard at the stadium should be ready by Friday night.

A new time clock, indicating seconds, has been added.

O'Doul To Lead Stars To Japan

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 18.—(INS)—Two international baseball figures—San Francisco's Frank "Lefty" O'Doul and Japan's "Mr. Baseball" Sotaro Suzuki—today signed a contract that will take an all-star American baseball team to Japan next month.

The colorful outgoing manager of the San Francisco Seals said that the U. S. team, leaving San Francisco October 15, will include the famous DiMaggio brothers, Joe and Dom and will be "one of the greatest all-star teams ever assembled."

Stars Selected

O'Doul enthusiastically rattled off the names of other baseball greats among the 17 players who will make the trip.

Ferris Fain, batting leader in the American League; Ed Lopat, Yankee pitcher; Mel Parnell, Red Sox pitching ace; Bob Schantz, top moundsman for the Philadelphia Athletics; Bill Werle, Pittsburgh pitching star; Dino Restelli of the Washington Senators; Lou Springer, second sacker of the Pacific Coast League's Hollywood Stars; and versatile Al Lyons, pitcher-outfielder of the PCL's Seattle Rainiers.

Johnny Price, baseball's famous comedian and Leo Hughes, trainer of the San Francisco Seals for the past decade, also will make the tour.

After signing the contract today, O'Doul and Suzuki made plans to fly to New York. While in the east, they will watch the world series and line up seven additional ball players to complete the all-star roster.

Silverstein, Marlin, Midgets And Ford Wrestle Tonight

Folks who enthuse over pro wrestling, 1951 vintage, will have an opportunity at 8:30 p.m. tonight of seeing some TV stars, plus a couple of pint-size, or midget grapplers in action at Flaherty Field. It will be the final mat exhibition of the summer season, and weather permitting, a large crowd is expected to see the catch-as-catch-can athletes perform.

The main exhibition between Ruffy Silverstein and Farmer Marlin is expected to out-do all past exhibitions here.

Ruffy put on a spectacular, classy show with Jackie Nichols here some weeks ago and recently won when Francois Miquet, Frenchman, was disqualified.

Being Francois is an intimate friend of Marlin, the Farmer fired a deft at Ruffy.

Having been beaten only once in recent months (by Bill Miller) Silverstein accepted the match and exclaimed: "I'll flop the Farmer."

However, the Farmer knows a few tricks, he says, which he learned traveling behind a ploy and he expects to burrow low then upset Ruffy tonight.

It ought to be an exciting match. Tiny Rowe and Tom Thumb, a pair of midgets who put on a spectacular show everywhere they appear, are docketed for the semifinal.

According to those who have seen them, they are as funny as Goose Tatum is in baseball or basketball, hence an enjoyable exhibition is anticipated.

Bobby Ford, the durable Youngstown boy, who put on a never-to-be-forgotten rough and tumble tag match with Jack Vansky, will pair with Angelo Poffo of Chicago against George Microcosta, Golden Greek, and Joe Fazio.

Ford, Poffo and Microcosta are, like the midgets, Marlin and Silverstein, video performers and with Fazio paired with the Golden Greek it is anticipated that the last outdoor show of 1951 will be the fastest yet held.

The Jefferson A.C. will start the exhibitions at 8:30 p.m.

HERE and THERE IN SPORTS LAND

THE LATE ARTHUR BRISBANE, editorial writer for Hearst newspapers, was responsible for Max Schmeling being recognized as the heavyweight champion of the world, as the result of his bout with Jack Sharkey, according to Bill Corum, I.N.S. sports writer. In his day, Brisbane wielded considerable power and, Corum writes:

The German, Schmeling, was fighting Jack Sharkey of Boston, a former U. S. sailor. In the fourth round, Sharkey tattooed Schmeling with lefts and rights to the head and body and had him plainly groggy.

Then, coming out of a clinch, Sharkey hit Max with a left to the body and Schmeling went down, writhing and holding himself around the middle and claiming foul.

At this juncture, there was, as you can well imagine, considerable confusion. The American fighter appeared to have won the fight by a knockout. But the referee didn't seem to be quite sure of it.

Only two persons in the big and wildly-excited crowd seemed to be sure of anything. One of 'em was "Cigar Joey" Jacobs, manager of Schmeling.

Promptly he sent a handy man rushing for the dressing room to get one of the metal protectors that fighters wore then, dent it, dunk it in water and bring it back to Schmeling's corner.

The idea of the water was to make the elastic part of the protector look as though it had been soaked in "honest sweat."

The other man, who had his mind made up, was Arthur Brisbane. He was sitting just behind one of the judges in the second press-row. In a loud and clear voice, he announced: "If the German doesn't get this fight, there'll be no more boxing in New York State."

The judge didn't know his own mind. But he knew who Brisbane was. He called the referee over and told him what the great man had said. The ref declared Schmeling the winner on a foul.

The N.Y. State Boxing commission, James A. Farley then chairman, later confirmed this verdict and made Max Schmeling heavyweight champion of the world.

TWO NEW YORK CONGRESSMEN charged in Washington Saturday that boxing, horse racing and many other events are controlled by gamblers and urged a sweeping House investigation.

Reps. Clemente and Anfuso, (Democrats) appealed to the House Rules committee on behalf of a resolution by Clemente to carry out the probe.

The committee generally indicated strong support for the move. But a decision was postponed to permit some revision in Clemente's proposal.

Clemente told of watching a fight in Washington, D. C. between Elkins Brothers, formerly of New Castle, Pa., and Arturo Godoy. Clemente said Brothers was far superior but Godoy won the decision. The legislator said he regarded the bout as not on the level.

Rep. Delaney (Democrat, N. Y.) who also attended the fight, said he timed one round and found that it lasted only two minutes 10 seconds, instead of the required three minutes.

Delaney said: "It was apparent they were afraid he (Godoy) couldn't last."

Clemente declared that most of the betting apparently favored Brothers and the decision could therefore, only have been of aid to gamblers.

County Schools Face Difficult Week-End Tasks

Union and Bessemer both entertain at home this week, for the first time this year. They are scheduled for Saturday night.

The task of winning the home opener for both schools will be a difficult one. Union meets Evans City, a team that drubbed the Scotties 33-13 last season, and one that has sidetracked two schools in easy fashion this season. The Big Red dropped Rimersburg 19-7, and whopped Bessemer 25-0.

The Scotland Laners were beaten 20-2 in the opener, and then bounced back last week to win against Mars, 25-18.

Bessemer under par this year, and seeking a first win, meets a one-time winner in Lowellville. The Ohioans ran wild against Springfield last week 43-0 in their opener.

The Cementers opened with a 6-6 tie at Arnold, and then looked up to Evans City 25-0.

These games will be played on Saturday night instead of Friday as originally reported.

Shenango travels to meet undefeated Zelienople. The Golden Bears walloped Girard 19-0 and Mercer 18-0.

Penn-Ohio League Playoffs Set For Sunday Afternoon

Teamsters will play General Fireproofing of Youngstown Sunday in the first of a three-game series to decide the Penn-Ohio league championship.

The locals, first half winners, will be hosts Sunday at Hartman field at 3 o'clock. The Youngstown team won the second half title in a special playoff recently.

Manager Jimmy Valentino of the Teamsters has called a practice tonight at 5:30 o'clock at Cascade street field.

Sunday's pitchers will be Embroski for the locals and Petrolini for Youngstown.

Geneva Roster Lists New Castle Players

Three from New Castle will be listed on the 1951 Geneva college football roster.

Archie Zarone will head a veteran backfield, and Herb Stewart and Mustapha Hassen will return for line duty.

Zarone is a senior, Hassen and Stewart juniors. All three are former New Castle high school players.

HILLERS TO MEET

Eden-Hillers of the North County Baseball League will hold an important meeting tonight at Arena's at 7:30, it is announced by J. W. Carbon, secretary.

Seventh Ward Cops First Game Of Playoff Series, 2-0

Seventh Ward defeated Fourth Ward 2-0 Monday evening at Little League Field in the first game of a scheduled three-game series for the New Castle Little Big League championship.

The fast fielding of both teams was one of the features of the contest. A double play stopped a Fourth Ward rally in the fifth inning and a one-handed catch by Muzzocco of the Fourth Ward of a line drive to left field ended a potential Seventh Ward rally in the fourth.

Both pitchers hurled good ball, each giving up only three hits. Qualiero was the winner, Long the loser.

These teams will meet again Wednesday evening at Little League Field for the second game of the series at 5:30.

St. Paul Needs One More Win

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 18.—(INS)—It will be do or die for the Louisville Colonels tonight in their American Association playoff with St. Paul.

The Colonels disappointed a home crowd last night by dropping a 3 to 2 decision to the Saints, putting them behind, 3 to 1, in the four-out-of-seven series. It was the third victory in a row for the Minneapolis nine.

A victory tonight will send the Saints into a final playoff with pennant-winning Milwaukee, the victor to represent the AA against the International League finalists in the "Little World Series."

The Champion Brewers won their playoff against third-place Kansas City, four games to one.

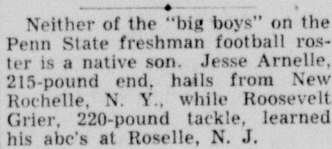

A Shattuck may soon be clearing the path for another Shattuck at Penn State. Numbered among the freshman football aspirants is Paul Shattuck, 200-pound tackle of Warren. His brother Ted is the Lion backfield star.

Buy More Land For Park Use

Another piece of Pennsylvania's scenic countryside has been added to a growing list of sites to be set aside as public parks.

The Western Pennsylvania Conservancy has announced the purchase of 132 acres of rugged beauty, which will be preserved for future generations.

Non-Profit Organization
The Western Pennsylvania Conservancy, formerly known as the Greater Pittsburgh Parks Association, is a non-profit organization, having for its purpose the preservation of scenic spots in western Pennsylvania where state parks have not already been established. It is composed of citizens who seek no profit for themselves, but who do want to guarantee future generations the right to enjoy some of Pennsylvania's wonderland.

To this end the association has purchased a number of sites, among them McConnell's Mills in Lawrence county. Title to all properties is vested in the association which in turn holds it in perpetuity for the use of the people.

Some day it is hoped to enlarge its holdings in the Slippery Rock valley and in other portions of western Pennsylvania and this will be done as money is made available.

The association is headed by Charles F. Chubb, president; Judge W. Walter Braham, vice president; M. Graham Netting, secretary, and Francis B. Nimick, treasurer.

Auto Industry To Produce Tools

DETROIT, Sept. 18.—(INS)—Defense Production Director Manly Fleischmann reported Monday that the automobile industry has agreed to launch a "major" machine tool manufacturing program.

The defense official said the program started with a meeting between Defense Mobilizer Wilson and top labor, automobile, truck and tractor industry officials and government experts.

Fleischmann, in a speech to the Detroit Economic club reported that machine tool production must be stepped up to meet military needs on time.

He said that a major part of the additional production could be handled by the automotive industry, particularly through subcontracting.

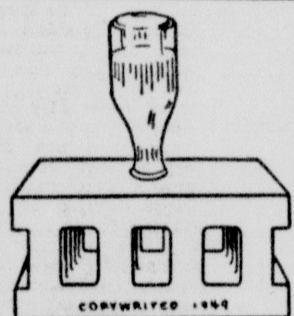

One out of every four individuals makes a mistake in his income tax return, 91 per cent of them against the government.
